

FACTS*WHAT DOES PSECU
DO WITH YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION?*Why?

Financial companies choose how they share your personal information. Federal law gives consumers the right to limit some but not all sharing. Federal law also requires us to tell you how we collect, share, and protect your personal information. Please read this notice carefully to understand what we do.

What?

The types of personal information we collect and share depend on the product or service you have with us. This information can include:

- Social Security Number and Income
- Credit History and Payment History
- Transaction History and Overdraft History

How?

All financial companies need to share members' personal information to run their everyday business. In the section below, we list the reasons financial companies can share their members' personal information; the reasons PSECU chooses to share; and whether you can limit this sharing.

Who we are

Who is providing this notice? PSECU, PSECU Protect, LLC

What we do

How does PSECU protect my personal information? To protect your personal information from unauthorized access and use, we use security measures that comply with federal law. These measures include computer safeguards and secured files and buildings.

To protect our members' privacy, we only work with companies that agree in writing to maintain strong confidentiality protections and limit the use of the information we provide.

How does PSECU collect my personal information? We collect your personal information, for example, when you

- open an account or apply for a loan
- make deposits or withdrawals from your account
- make a wire transfer

We also collect your personal information from others such as credit bureaus or other companies.

Why can't I limit all sharing? Federal law gives you the right to limit only

- sharing for affiliates' everyday business purposes — information about your creditworthiness
- affiliates from using your information to market to you
- sharing for nonaffiliates to market to you

State laws and individual companies may give you additional rights to limit sharing. See "Other important information" below for more on your rights under state law.

What happens when I limit sharing for an account I hold jointly with someone else? Your choices will apply to everyone on your account.

Definitions

Affiliates Companies related by common ownership or control. They can be financial and nonfinancial companies.

- Our affiliates include companies with the PSECU name.

Nonaffiliates Companies not related by common ownership or control. They can be financial and nonfinancial companies.

- PSECU does not share with nonaffiliates so they can market to you.

Joint marketing A formal agreement between nonaffiliated financial companies that together market financial products or services to you.

- PSECU doesn't jointly market.

Other important information

California and Vermont: PSECU automatically limits sharing of information with affiliates for members with a California or Vermont address.
